

Since the implementation of the "No-call" list my family and I have enjoyed the privacy and quality time at home without constant telephone solicitations. We are opposed to the attempt of exemption of those businesses with whom we have a "business relationship" with as this would add many unwanted calls to our home.